Creating connections that you can count on

We are thrilled to invite you to our Women In Tax event to be held in Brisbane later this year on 12 June.

Each career journey is unique – whether you’re just starting out or contemplating a change, stay curious, be adaptable and learn from those who have walked the road before you. You will also hear about the power of having your own personal sponsors (it is different to a mentor) who can support you in fostering your career progression and be an advocate for your success – whatever that looks like for you.

We are all aware of the value of your network in your career, therefore the Women in Tax committee encourages you to join this exciting panel discussion to re-connect with the your tax community.

Join us as we hear from professionals at different stages of their career discussing what has changed for them along the way and the most unexpected lessons that they have learned. A truly insightful and inspirational panel discussion.
